We foster self-worth, safe spaces, and inclusivity, creating a "home away from home" for all. Our dynamic sessions explore feminism—its history, myths, and narratives—while dissecting patriarchy's impact on female literacy and work-life balance across sectors. Through intersectional dialogues, workshops, and collaborations with activists and NGOs, we challenge stereotypes and amplify marginalized voices. Whether raising awareness, celebrating diversity, or advocating for justice, WDC bridges theory and action, shaping a campus culture rooted in respect and equity. We build a space where equality isn't just a deal—it's reality. Together, we rise, resist, and redefine. Bebakh'25: The annual fest celebrated resilience and solidarity with a dynamic lineup, including an opening ceremony, renowned speaker sessions, and the launch of the ASTITV A magazine. Attendees explored interactive stalls, witnessed a powerful flash mob, and engaged in a panel discussion on beauty standards. The cadets routinely participate in institutional training, Republic Day parades, youth exchange programs, adventure camps and community outreach programmes. Such activities not only provide them with an advantage in various employment opportunities, but also help them learn life skills and develop a well-rounded persona. The registered members of NCC have to appear for 'B' & 'C' Certificate exams conducted by the NCC wing of Delhi.

The student-volunteers of NSS organizes such community outreach programmes as blood donation camps, campus cleaning drives, sapling plantation drives, educating slum children, and awareness campaigns on many topical social and environmental issues. The student-members also extend services during times of natural calamities and disasters by way of organizing donation drives.

The Enactus team in our college provides a platform for students to embark on exemplary community outreach, social entrepreneurship and awareness-building activities throughout the year. It has helped increase the students' sensitivity towards social and environmental causes by regularly undertaking innovative projects such as feeding, vaccination, sterilization and protection of neighborhood dogs; sapling-plantation; cleanliness, sanitation and personal hygiene; and donation of food and clothes in slums. Recently, it designed a utility and a product for which we have approached the Government of India for patenting, keeping in view their uniqueness. The college will bear all expenses incurred on patenting these products. Over the years, the Enactus has gathered accolades from institutions in India and abroad for its innovative social entrepreneurship projects. Most notably, it received the Genpact Campus Impact Award from TERI and Genpact in 2016; mentorship from KPMG in 2020; and a seed grant of USD 1000 from The Pollination Project (TPP), a US-based organization, for its project 'DESI' for sterilization and vaccination of stray dogs in 2020.
